PART II: COURSE(S) DESCRIPTION

Course period:	10-30 July 2019 (both days included)
Language component:	In class, weekdays from 9:15-12:45 Form and content: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The participants are divided into small groups (3-5) where they are on the same level.</li> <li>• Text and pictures are related to societal and cultural subjects and invite to cross-country comparisons.</li> <li>• The specific vocabulary related to the subject is learned and practiced.</li> <li>• Conversation exercises. Role-plays. Students talk together as much as possible, so that they all produce a lot of Danish every hour. The teacher monitors and corrects.</li> <li>• Student presentations prepared as homework.</li> <li>• Writing exercises.</li> <li>• Discussions – to begin with only in Danish. On the lower learner-levels the discussion continues in English, when appropriate. The students learn an "etiquette" for discussions, so that they can express disagreement and agreement, reservation and support in a non-offensive way.</li> <li>• Games with physical activity. These will typically take place in the corridors and open spaces outside of the classrooms. In the games the students drill vocabulary.</li> <li>• Grammar: Every day's text is accompanied by a grammar-lesson. All students learn parts of speech, syntax, learn to talk in the present and the</li> </ul>

	past. On the highest level, perfection pronunciation is aimed at. On the lower levels it is most about making oneself understood and getting better. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Each student will be talking Danish at least 2 hours every day. Joint session, including a 15 minute break, 10:30-11:15.</li> </ul> PLENARY SESSION FOR ALL CLASSES Form and content: Community singing. The course has its own songbook, where all songs are in Danish, but with a translation next to. The songs are traditional or pop-music. First, a teacher reads aloud the text and the audience repeats, learning the pronunciation. Then there is community singing accompanied by piano. Last, all go to the other end of the room and stand in front of the smartboard, now singing along with Danish performers (Kim Larsen etc.) Practical information is given, e.g. supplementary information about the afternoon's cultural program. Questions are answered.
